

Strategies for Success in Coursework

VISIT YOUR PROFESSOR'S OFFICE HOURS

All professors offer office hours, virtually or in-office

- If their set hours do not work, email them about other times

Struggling with what to talk about?

- Review missed test questions
- Discuss a concept you do not understand
- Ask for tips on studying for their subject

MEET WITH A STUDY SKILLS MENTOR

The Academic Success Center offers assistance with Time Management, Study Skills, Note Taking, etc. You can schedule also an appointment with a Study Skills Mentor who has received mentor training in effective learning strategies.

ADDITIONAL TUTORING RESOURCES

Attend Tutoring for Science and Math Courses

- The Academic Success Center offers one-on-one tutoring for some science courses by appointment both in-person and virtually. You can also use the Writing Studio for help with papers and lab reports.
- USF Chem Society offers free science and mathematics tutoring via Microsoft Teams. Subjects include: General Chemistry, Organic Chemistry, Physics, Calculus, Biology, and Biochemistry.
- USF is partnering with TutorMe to offer expanded tutoring with free 1-on-1 support. You match with an online tutor based on your course needs (includes Biology and Biochemistry). The tutoring is paid for by USF.

Focus on Your Wellness

- USF Health and Wellness understands success in college is more than just academics. Utilize their resources online and on-campus to focus on all wellness dimensions: academic, career, emotional, financial, social, physical and purposeful
- The USF Counseling Center offers multiple options for addressing the additional stressors with your online courses. Schedule an appointment or attend one of their workshops.
