

Strategies for Success in Coursework

VISIT YOUR PROFESSOR'S OFFICE HOURS

All professors offer office hours, virtually or in-office

- If their set hours do not work, email them about other times

Struggling with what to talk about?

- Review missed test questions
- Discuss a concept you do not understand
- Ask for tips on studying for their subject

MEET WITH A STUDY SKILLS MENTOR

The Academic Success Center offers assistance with Time Management, Study Skills, Note Taking, etc. You can schedule also an appointment with a Study Skills Mentor who has received mentor training in effective learning strategies.

Attend Tutoring for Science and Math Courses

- The Academic Success Center offers one-on-one tutoring for some science courses by appointment. You can also use the Writing Studio for help with papers and lab reports.
- USF Chem Society offers free science and mathematics tutoring via Microsoft Teams. Subjects include: General Chemistry, Organic Chemistry, Physics, Calculus, Biology, and Biochemistry.
- Knack is partnering with USF to offer expanded tutoring. Biology (and health) courses are among those being piloted. Only the courses listed on the Academic Success Center's website are "sponsored" and able to be used for free. Knack offers additional tutoring for more courses that are not covered through USF.

Focus on Your Wellness

- USF Health and Wellness understands success in college is more than just academics. Make a plan with a Success and Wellness Coach or just research the wellness topics on their website.
- The USF Counseling Center offers multiple options for addressing the additional stressors with your online courses. Schedule an appointment or attend one of their workshops.
